Solution Overview

YMC Capital acts as Investment Manager, providing the fund platform, governance, and institutional wrapper.

Malcolm De Silva and The Whiskey Mansion are appointed as Sub-Investment Manager, executing the trading strategy with full domain expertise.

The fund will be structured as an open-ended vehicle with monthly NAV, leveraging YMC Capital's existing infrastructure and service-provider relationships.

Whiskey as an Asset Class

YMC Edge: The 2024–25 correction created a favourable entry window. A disciplined trading approach can acquire assets at reset valuations with meaningful upside as the market normalises.

Why Now

The whiskey investment market experienced a significant correction in late 2024–early 2025, with transaction values declining over 50%. Prices have stabilised while long-term demand drivers — limited aged stock, growing consumption, and collector interest — remain intact.

The Trading Opportunity

An active approach captures value that passive holding cannot: arbitrage between primary and secondary markets, timing exits around distillery events, and rotating across categories (Scotch, bourbon, Japanese, Irish) as relative values shift.

Active Trading Approach

The fund will pursue an active trading strategy — acquiring assets at favourable entry points, managing a diversified portfolio across vintages and categories, and exiting positions to capture value through market timing, maturity arbitrage, and strategic liquidation.

Acquisition

Source undervalued assets through direct relationships, auctions, private sales, and distillery allocations. Leverage proprietary access and pricing intelligence.

Portfolio Management

Actively rotate holdings across categories, vintages, and geographies as relative values shift. Monitor maturation timelines and market conditions.

Disposition

Exit positions through optimal channels — private sales, auction placement, trade buybacks, or direct-to-collector — timed for maximum return.

Asset Selection Criteria

- ✓ Provenance-verified casks and bottles from recognised distilleries
- ✓ Identifiable catalysts for value realisation
- ✓ Asymmetric risk/return profiles
- ✓ Clear exit routes and manageable liquidity

Risk Controls

- ✓ Concentration limits by distillery, category, and vintage
- ✓ Maximum single-position size relative to NAV
- ✓ Independent valuation methodology
- ✓ Full insurance and proper custody for all physical assets
